Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Toji Tokubetsu is a stakes race for two time winning 3YO and upper over 1,200m on dirt and the most difficult race to prefigure in seven races at Nakayama on 25th December.

My favourite is NILKANTA TESORO, a Japanese-bred 5YO horse by SPEIGHTSTOWN, who finished second in an allowance race at Chukyo on 4th December. He finished third in an allowance race for two time winners at Sapporo on 30th July and MUSIQUE, the second finisher in that race, won an allowance race for two time starters in her next start. From those form, I assess NILKANTA TESORO has the ability to graduate this class. And I believe 1,200m dirt track at Nakayama is the course where he can show himself at his best, as he has finished second twice there.

NATURE CURREN, who finished third in an allowance race for two time winners at Hanshin on 27th November, is my second choice. The 5YO horse by CURREN BLACK HILL has strong late kick and covered the final 600m for the fastest or second fastest time in recent five races in a row. In other words, NATURE CURREN delivers strong challenge on homestretch, regardless the pace of race. And he won an allowance race for one time winners on 11th September over the same course and distance as Toji Tokubetsu.

My third choice is MY STAGE, who finished within the first three in her last four starts at the class for two time winners, including last start on 3rd December over the same course and distance as Toji Tokubetsu. Although the 4YO filly by STORMING HOME has collected two wins at anti-clockwise tracks and not won at Nakayama, she started there for eight times, finished second twice and third for three times. I believe those statistics show MY STAGE handles the track at Nakayama well. She finished third in an allowance race for two time winners at Tokyo on 15th October and the winner of that race was REVES LIEN, who would subsequently start twice in allowance race for three time winners and finished second in both races. I believe MY STAGE has the ability to compete well in this class.

SEIUN HARUKANI, who won allowance race for one time winners on 4th December over the same course and distance as Toji Tokubetsu, is my fourth choice. The performance of the 3YO colt by BAGO, has improved significantly since he started to run without sheepskin cheek pieces in allowance race at Nakayama on 25th September, when he finished second. And 1,200m dirt track at Nakayama is his favourite track, as he started here for five times, won two of them and finished second once. Though this is the first time for him to compete in this class, I judge he has a chance to finish within the first four here.

IVORY DRESS is my fifth choice. While she was well beaten in an allowance race at Tokyo on 15th October last time out, her morning track work at Miho Training Centre on 14th December was very impressive and I believe she will run much better on Sunday.

SELECTIONS: 15. NILKANTA TESORO, 9. NATURE CURREN, 14. MY STAGE, 12. SEIUN HARUKANI & 1. IVORY DRESS

Two wins and one second in 3 starts over 1200m at Nakayama, but nothing left in the stretch and finished 16th when moved up to the 2-win class (1300m, dirt) in October last time. Races handy.
