Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

ISOLATE looks to have a great chance of retaining his crown in the G2 Godolphin Mile. He could not have been more impressive when easily winning this 1,600m contest 12 months ago. The way he kicked clear to win by more than five and a half lengths having made the early running suggested he could hold his own in the top dirt races. Doug Watson's star returned to Meydan with a smooth victory in the G2 Al Maktoum Mile in December but it was a little disappointing he couldn't make an impact when only sixth in the G1 Saudi Cup over 1,800m last month. Meydan's different dirt surface and the shorter distance clearly suits him better.

SAUDI CROWN was only beaten a length when third behind SENOR BUSCADOR in the G1 Saudi Cup over 1,800m. That form gives him the clear edge over ISOLATE but he's done most of his racing over longer distances than this 1,600m trip.

SWING VOTE has taken well to the dirt. He looked a nice prospect when winning over 1,600m and 2,000m at Chantilly in France last spring. Since joining Simon & Ed Crisford from Andre Fabre and switching to dirt in Dubai he has shown improved form. His G3 win over 1,600m at Jebel Ali last March was his third win over that course and distance this winter. He was unable to show his usual finishing kick in the G3 Burj Nahaar over 1,600m at Meydan early this month, but that race didn't play to his strengths.

TWO RIVERS OVER has improved since switching to American trainer Doug O'Neill. His fourth in a Santa Anita G2 in January was a nice step in the right direction but that still leaves him some way short of the big two.

If there is to be a surprise result, CAMEL CHIP could be the one. He's mostly run over sprint distances but there is stamina in his pedigree. It was only a claimer he won over 1,200m at Gulfstream Park in January but he's since gone on to run well when fourth in the Listed Pelican Stakes over 1,200m on the dirt at Tampa Bay Downs. This is another big rise in grade but he could improve for the step up to 1,600m.

Very consistent with a high win/place strike-rate, perhaps his most significant success coming over 1200m at Gulfstream Park in January. Meets specialist 1600m horses here, so challenging.

A leading candidate for Godolphin Mile glory, although he ran out of gas in the closing stages in a G1 over 1800m at King Abdulaziz last month. He bossed his rivals for an easy win in this last year and may try the same despite a much wider gate this time.

Plenty of success in the US at this distance. Proved he could handle a rise in class when a close fourth in a G2 at Santa Anita on his latest start. A bit more progress could see him impact here.
