Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Charlie Appleby has not saddled the winner of the G2 Dubai Gold Cup over 3,200m since CROSS COUNTER won the 2019 renewal, but he appears to have leading claims in this year's renewal with last year's runner-up SISKANY. Arriving on the back of wins at Listed and G3 level (both over 2,810m), SISKANY looks set for a bold bid to go one place better than 12 months ago. Fitted with cheekpieces for the first time this year, and with race fitness on his side, the DUBAWI gelding looks well placed in gate six to run another big race on ground conditions which should be ideal.

BROOME gave trainer Aidan O'Brien his first victory in the race 12 months ago, and stablemate TOWER OF LONDON looks another strong contender for the Ballydoyle master. Although yet to win over 3,200m, TOWER OF LONDON appeared to need every yard of the 3,000m trip in the G3 Red Sea Turf Handicap at King Abdulaziz last month. Being housed in stall 14 is not ideal, but the son of GALILEO has shown before that he is capable of winning when sitting just off the pace or being held up.

GIAVELLOTTO could only finish ninth in the race last year when unable to challenge from gate 15, but he showed improved form following that run to win the G2 Yorkshire Cup over 2,771m on his return to Britain. Having given weight to TOWER OF LONDON when finishing third behind him last time out in the G3 Red Sea Turf Handicap over 3,000m, the Marco Botti-trained runner will be expected to get closer to that rival back on level terms from a more favourable position in gate one, which last year's winner raced from.

The John and Thady Gosden-trained TRAWLERMAN showed improved form in Britain during the second half of last year when completing a hat-trick of wins, culminating with victory in the G2 British Champions Long Distance Cup over 3,115m at Ascot. Being drawn widest of all in gate 16 makes life difficult, but the GOLDEN HORN gelding will be expected to perform much better than when only beating one horse home in last year's renewal.

In a race that requires an abundance of stamina to win, COLTRANE will be suited to this test. After finishing second on quick ground in last year's G1 Gold Cup over 3,991m at Ascot, the Andrew Balding-trained 7YO was a winner of the G2 Lonsdale Cup over 3,251m at York, and he should run another solid race.

Surged from the back to win a Listed event over 2800m at Deauville last August, though the very soft ground there is unlikely to be the scenario here. Struggled to make a big impact in a prep for this at Chantilly.

An interesting candidate given the way he came from a near-impossible looking position – twice finding himself without clear room – to zoom past rivals and win a highly competitive and valuable handicap at King Abdulaziz last month.
